Roderick Buchanan
 'Players'

25th November 2000
 4th February 2001
 DCA Galleries 1 & 2

The work of Roderick Buchanan is rooted in the real and very familiar worlds of sports and popular urban pastimes. Looking at the range and complexity of ways in which individual identities are expressed in our recreational behaviour, Buchanan has realised a body of work with both sincerity and humour.

'Buchanan's work deals with today's crucial questions in a way that refuses cynicism or ironic distancing and enthusiastically embraces and commits itself to the world.'
 Jean-Marc Huitorel, Art Press

 1997 - 2000 (DETAIL)

Roderick Buchanan (b. Glasgow 1965) is one of the most outstanding artists of his generation in Scotland. Awarded the first Beck's Futures prize in April this year at the ICA in London, he has exhibited widely in Britain and Europe over the last 10 years.

This exhibition is the first opportunity for his practice to be explored in depth, bringing together video and photographic works from recent years, as well as a new film work made in Dundee.
